Assessment rubric for spoken production

Spoken production · Type 1

EN

Pragmatic competences

Task achievement — 8 points

- Delivers a personal production that reflects serious, thorough work.
- Shows originality and creativity.
- Fulfils the mission set by the scenario and respects the format.
- Knows how to start and end the recording.
- Can adapt to the sociolinguistic situation.

Content

- Provides the expected information.
- Gives a prepared, non-complex presentation on the given topic.
- Can divide the content of the talk into an introduction, main body and conclusion.
- Can structure a talk into different thematic sections.

Oral performance

- Delivers a good oral performance, without reciting or reading: eye contact, gestures, tone, energy.
- The talk is pleasant to listen to.

Coherence

- Uses simple linguistic devices to present and link information (non-systematic errors tolerated).
- The main points are explained with reasonable precision.

Linguistic competences

Syntax and grammar — 2 points

- Can apply what has been practised in the previous units.
- Has a good command of simple, everyday structures; complex sentences are still being acquired.
- Has sufficient command of grammar for the overall meaning to remain clear.
- Errors do not impede understanding of the discourse.

Lexis — 2 points

- Reuses the vocabulary of the unit.
- Uses basic vocabulary appropriate to the task.
- Can use circumlocution to make themselves understood.

Phonology — 8 points

- Pronounces key words correctly.
- Is generally intelligible despite some pronunciation errors linked to their first language.
- Intelligibility and fluency: can make themselves understood most of the time despite pauses (even long ones) to search for words.

Translated from the French original with Claude · Espace Langues · Université Sorbonne Paris Nord · CC BY-NC-SA 4.0